Providing additional information about your business will make it faster and easier for you to work with other businesses and the government. You can decide which additional details are kept private on the Companies Register and the New Zealand Business Number (NZBN) Register by selecting either the 'public' or 'private' option. There is one exception - the 'Trading Details' section - which will automatically be made visible to the public. Public information can be viewed by anyone who searches the website. Private information can only be seen by authorised persons and the Registrar.
